

November 11, 2013

AREA Science Park – Trieste (Italy)

“Innovative models for the management of international incoming services”

The objective is promoting innovative models for the management of international incoming.

Contents: The seminar aims to present innovative models for the management of international incoming based on the exploitation of synergies in the territory and addressed to the optimization of involved human resources. In particular, the aim is to provide participants with innovative know-how with an intent to optimize the management of international incoming services and, subsequently, to improve attractiveness through the provision and promotion specific services targeted for international students and researchers. Among the issues dealt with, specific attention will be paid to the definition of strategic internationalization plans.

Among the speakers, representatives of institutions, known at a national and international level for the effectiveness of their activities, managing programmes and facilities addressed to attracting international students and researchers.

November 12, 2013

AREA Science Park – Trieste (Italy)

“Good practices in the management of mobility and international attractiveness”

The objective is promoting good practices in mobility and international attractiveness.

Contents: The seminar aims to provide participants with examples of good practices in the management of the incoming of international students and researchers, as implemented by agencies specializing in internationalization in other countries (particularly in the countries involved in the project network), to present cases of good handling of transnational mobility flows.

Among the speakers, international organizations will be involved, which proved to be particularly noteworthy in the management of mobility programmes and in the promotion of the science and academic system at a national level.

More information and pre-registration: www.welcomeoffice.fvg.it/dianet or dianet-seminars@area.trieste.it

Il Fondo Sociale Europeo
in Friuli Venezia Giulia
Programma Operativo Regionale 2007-2013

UN INVESTIMENTO PER IL TUO FUTURO

November 13, 2013

AREA Science Park – Trieste (Italy)

“International placement”

The objective is to carry out an in-depth analysis of the issues related to international placement and the university-enterprise relations to improve placement in the graduate job market.

Contents: Developing international student and graduate placement opportunities is increasingly becoming a crucial element for all universities, whose performance evaluation is being increasingly based on their capability of facilitating an effective access to the job market. It is thus fundamental to create opportunities to meet the private sector, including at an international level. The seminar will, therefore, provide participants with ideas, tools and good practices regarding public-private cooperation experiences in higher education.

Among the speakers, representatives of placement offices, which have developed good practices in graduate placement.

More information and pre-registration: www.welcomeoffice.fvg.it/dianet or dianet-seminars@area.trieste.it

Il Fondo Sociale Europeo
in Friuli Venezia Giulia
Programma Operativo Regionale 2007-2013

REGIONE AUTONOMA
FRIULI VENEZIA GIULIA

UN INVESTIMENTO PER IL TUO FUTURO